Member of a school governing body?

What is FEDSAS about?

FEDSAS is about the development of competent school governing bodies at public schools. FEDSAS was established in 1993 and has since grown into one of the most respected role-players in basic education in South Africa.

We are a democratic, non-political organisation serving both public and independent schools. The organisation supports the governing bodies of more than 2 300 member schools from a range of cultural and language settings in all nine provinces.

South African Schools Act

FEDSAS acts in accordance with the South African Schools Act of 1996. The Schools Act encourages parent and learner participation, thereby offering school communities more influence and control.

FEDSAS

The leader in school governance and management

School governance and management

FEDSAS provides assistance with the vision and mission statement of the school. We help members draft school policies, such as on admissions, language, discipline, conduct, finances (school fees, budgets, fundraisers) and hostels, to name but a few. In addition, FEDSAS assists the governing body with the appointment process for educator, administrative and support staff.

Representation on provincial and national education forums

FEDSAS liaises directly with the national and provincial departments of basic education through representation on their consultative forums. We pride ourselves on the professional relationship we maintain with education departments at both national and provincial level so as to act in the best interests of our members at all times.

FEDSAS training

FEDSAS offers regular training to equip members with the best available knowledge and information on school governance and management, and improve their skills. We also focus on the learner component, namely the Representative Council of Learners (RCL), and offer annual training to prepare them for their important role in the governance of their schools.

FEDSAS Centre for Technology

The centre uses various digital platforms and the latest online technology to train and keep members informed. The FEDSAS Centre for Technology also advises members on the value of technology-aided education, and on innovative technology solutions for schools. To this end, the centre has collaboration agreements with the most prominent role-players in the technology industry.
