TIPS FOR PARENTS #2

How to keep the children busy in an educational way during school holidays

Keeping children engaged in an educational way during school holidays can be a rewarding and enriching experience. Here are tips for parents to help keep their children busy in a productive and educational manner:

- Encourage reading: Set aside dedicated reading time and provide access to a variety of books that cater to their interests and reading level.
- Visit the local library: Take your child to the library regularly to explore new books and participate in library programs and activities.
- Plan educational outings: Visit museums, science centers, zoos, or historical sites where children can learn while having fun.
- Organize educational games: Engage your child in educational board games, puzzles, or online games that focus on learning concepts.
- Enroll in holiday camps: Look for holiday camps that offer educational programs aligned with your child's interests, such as science, arts, or coding.
- Encourage creative activities: Provide art supplies, building blocks, or craft materials to stimulate their creativity and imagination.
- Gardening: Involve children in gardening activities, teaching them about plants, sustainability, and the environment.
- Cooking and baking: Allow children to assist in the kitchen, teaching them about measurements, nutrition, and following recipes.
- STEM projects: Engage children in hands-on science, technology, engineering, and math projects that are age-appropriate and engaging.
- Start a journal or blog: Encourage your child to maintain a journal or start a blog to improve their writing skills and document their experiences.
- Learn a new language: Introduce your child to a foreign language through apps, online courses, or language learning programs.
- Educational apps and websites: Explore educational apps and websites that offer interactive learning experiences in various subjects.
- Nature walks: Take nature walks and teach children about the environment, wildlife, and the importance of conservation.
- Science experiments: Conduct simple science experiments at home using household items to foster curiosity and exploration.
- Musical activities: Encourage children to learn to play a musical instrument or participate in singing or dancing classes.
- Encourage writing: Provide writing prompts or encourage your child to write stories, poems, or even a play.
- Organize a book club: Start a book club with your child and their friends, where they can discuss and share their favorite books.
- Educational movies and documentaries: Watch educational movies and documentaries together and discuss the content afterward.
- Outdoor activities: Encourage physical activity through outdoor games, sports, hiking, or biking, combining exercise with learning about nature.

Remember, the key is to find activities that align with your child's interests and age level. By making learning enjoyable and engaging, you can help your child develop a love for lifelong learning.

27/2023 Grade 12 NSC Examination: Timetable for October/November 2023

IMPORTANT WORKSHOP FOR 3RD TERM

"I've created a workshop for teachers discussing the barriers to learning in the classroom, what to look out for and how to screen and assess so that a correct referral can then be made by the school based support team or teachers.

"I find that the workshop works well with teachers in a discussion group of up to 20 and having the file on hand to refer to, as we are discussing the different learning barriers. This format means that it's interactive and allows for questions and further dialogue. Teachers also enjoy being given the opportunity to put forward some case studies for us to chat about and problem-solve together.
